Ted C. Williams Joins Elite Group of Engineers College of Fellows of the American Council of Engineering Companies

New Castle, Del., November 1, 2011 LandmarkJCM principal and executive vice president, Ted C. Williams, P.E., FACEC, has been inducted into the College of Fellows of the American Council of Engineering Companies, an elite group of engineers who have made significant contributions to the engineering profession through their experience, knowledge and networking abilities.

Mr. Williams received this special recognition from David Raymond, President and CEO of ACEC, Everett Cowan, Chairman of the Committee of Fellows, and Terry Neimeyer, Chairman of ACEC, during the Fall Conference held October 19-22, 2011 at Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas, Nevada. Mr. Williams currently serves as ACEC Chairman-Elect, where he will succeed Terry Neimeyer, who began his one-year term as ACEC Chairman in March, 2011.

ACEC is the voice of America's engineering industry. Council members – numbering more than 5,000 firms representing more than 400,000 employees throughout the country – are engaged in a wide range of engineering works that propel the nation's economy, and enhance and safeguard America's quality of life. The Council's mission is to contribute to America's prosperity and welfare by advancing the business interests of member firms.
